

Owned and operated by the City of Edinburg, the South Texas International Airport has one northwest-southeast oriented runway with one full-length parallel taxiway, a helipad, a large General Aviation Apron, and twenty-one tie downs.

There are sixteen hangar spaces and the terminal Building consists of a large lobby, pilot's lounge, meeting room, and office spaces.

A 50,000 square foot air cargo building was completed in 2007 and a new Customs Facility is scheduled to open in 2015.
